Group (SPG), the CISF, the Delhi Police and the Railway Protection Force (RPF).

The meeting, an official said, underlined that the Independence Day (I-Day) this year falls less than a month before September's G20 Summit in Delhi and any adversarial incident before or during the August 15 function will have a "negative impact" on the country's image and its preparedness to host a high profile, multilateral event.

The intelligence agencies also pointed out that there is a prevalence of various groups resorting to protests in the run up to or even during important events to bring their issues to limelight.

this year's event, an official said. "While sharing threat inputs with the Delhi Police and other security agencies... they have been asked to get genuine/ advance updates on protests/ demonstrations and told that they should also coordinate with the police departments of neighbouring states to keep track of mobilisation and movement of potential protesters towards Delhi," an official said.

"The central intelligence agencies also warned about social media, which is being increasingly used for radicalisation and mobilising people, issuing threats to dignitaries and offering rewards for such actions," the rected his associates to carry out reconnaissance of some locations in Delhi, including the headquarters of the National Investigation Agency and the Delhi Police.

"The recent killings of Pak-based terrorist Paramjit Singh Panjwar, UK-based Avtar Singh Khanda and Canada-based operational head of Khalistan Tiger Force, Hardeep Singh Nijjar, have evoked sharp reactions from Sikh radicals and pro-Khalistan elements or PKEs. They have alleged involvement of Indian agencies for these killings and threatened to take revenge," an official said, citing the threat assessment report.

tions of the Manipur High Court, the state government issued an order conditionally restoring broadband internet services. However, mobile internet services continue to be suspended.

Hearing a set of petitions seeking the restoration of internet services, the HC had on July 7 directed that the state authorities conduct physical trials to explore the possibility of providing mobile internet services to certain whitelisted mobile numbers. The authorities had submitted to the court that the trial had been conducted and a report to this end submitted by service providers stated that there was no data leakage to any other numbers that are not whitelisted.
